JON S. CORZINE
GOVERNOR

November 12, 2008

Dear Friends,

Best wishes to the Rutgers Program in American Language Studies, and everyone gathered for the Awards Ceremony for the Best Papers on Persian Literature and Culture.

Today, the Persian Cultural Foundation, will honor two students of Rutgers University who can best capture Persian culture and literature. Literature and culture and its artistic qualities will never fade, and so long as individuals write about them, a story of a people especially the Persians with their proud traditions will never be lost to time.

Congratulations to the students who are being recognized today. I commend you on your hard work, dedication, and capturing the cultural essence of what it means to be Persian.

Again, best wishes on an enjoyable event.

Sincerely,
